This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

CORRESPONDENCE AND PROCEEDINGS

PRELIMINARY TO INSTITUTING THE

"FROST FREE LIBRARY,"

MARLBORO', N. H.

MARLBORO', N. H., Sept. 15, 1865.

RUFUS S. FROST, ESQ:

Dear Sir,— A meeting of the citizens of Marlboro', was holden Wednesday evening, to take into consideration the subject of providing a suitable place for the library, which it is understood, you are intending to present to the town. It was not the object of this meeting to take any definite action on the subject any further than to ascertain more fully the minds of the people here. There was quite a full attendance, and it was the unanimous opinion of those present that the town will, when the matter is formally laid before them, vote to erect a building, either independently or in connection with a Town Hall.

It is not clear in the minds of all that it conforms with your wishes, to have a building furnished at the expense of the town. Some think you prefer to erect and present the building as a part of the donation.

To learn what, if anything, you would have us do, a committee has been appointed to correspond with you, and are instructed to say to you that a legal town meeting will be called to act upon any proposition you may make whenever it shall suit your convenience. Also can you inform us the size of the building required or the size you would build:

Very respectfully yours,

E. O. WOODWARD,
CHAS. E. HOUGHTON,
CHAS. K. MASON,
Committee.

BOSTON, MASS., Sept. 20, 1865.

Messrs. E. O. WOODWARD,
CHAS. E. HOUGHTON,
CHAS. K. MASON,
} Committee.

Dear Sirs, — Your esteemed favor of the 15th inst. did not reach me till yesterday, and in reply I would say, that for over a year I have considered the plan of presenting to my native town a Free Public Library, and have appropriated five thousand dollars for that object, part of which is to be invested, and the income of the same to be expended annually for new books to freshen up the library. This being perpetual, a proper place for such a library had early occupied my attention. With pride and satisfaction I have seen the good citizens of Marlboro' tax themselves to raise men to carry to a triumphant termination the war thrust upon us by the South. But the rebellion is now crushed, and with the glorious success of our arms we are left with a large debt and heavy taxation, of which I know your patriotic citizens will readily assume their share. Under these circumstances, I could not consent to have any of them feel that their taxes were increased one cent because I had presented the town with a library. It has been suggested to me that a Town Hall might be built by subscription, by some of the citizens (and thus avoid taxation), and that a suitable room in it might be made fireproof, and the free use of it donated perpetually for the library. But there might be delay in building the Town Hall, or other difficulties might arise connected with this plan, in which case I should probably contract for a suitable building.

I am pleased to learn from your letter that the citizens of Marlboro', the friends and associates of my honored parents, and also the playmates of my childhood and friends of later years take so much interest in the library.

I beg to assure them through you, that every year's experience in life makes me value more highly the principles taught me by my parents, and love more tenderly Marlboro', their home and the home of their parents.

Truly yours, etc.,

RUFUS S. FROST.

The library building, a handsome, substantial, granite structure, having been completed pursuant to the design of Mr. Frost as indicated in the preceding correspondence, and furnished with books to the number of two thousand volumes; the citizens of the town were formally called upon to meet at three o'clock, Monday, P. M., August 26, 1867, to see if they would vote to accept the proffered gift upon such terms as the donor should dictate. Accordingly, at that hour, the library was filled to overflowing by the old and young of the town.

Charles K. Mason, Esq., having been chosen Moderator of the meeting, and the divine blessing invoked by Rev. Irad Taggard, Mr. FROST thus addressed the large assemblage:

"Men, women and children of my native town: The day which I have been anticipating so long, has at length arrived, and it gives me great pleasure to meet you all and welcome you here.

"The great number present indicates the interest you take in education, which, with religion, must be the foundation of the prosperity of any community.

"The facts that my paternal and maternal ancestors lived here from the first settlement of the town — that in 1776, my great grandfather Frost and grandfather Wheeler, with other citizens of the town, signed the agreement to oppose with arms the hostile proceedings of the British; that when I was four years' old, my father, (whom I well remember,) died here, and with my eldest sister and most of our ancestors, lies in the old graveyard; that the first six years of my life were spent here, and that I here received at the common school, the sabbath school, and from my now sainted mother, the beginning of my education; these facts have rendered this place very dear to my heart.

"And as I have come back to the home of my boyhood from year to year with my family to drink in health and enjoyment from these grand old hills and valleys, and seen these stalwart young men and the beautiful young women who are growing up here, I have longed to do something which would add to the attractions of "dear old Marlboro," and prove a real benefit to all her people. It seemed to me that a free library would accomplish these results. In the summer of 1865, I made the first purchase of books, and have been selecting and adding until the present time, and in everything connected with the library I have endeavored to act for the town without regard to denomination or party. I now offer you the property with the following deed:

"'KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS. That I, Rufus S. Frost of Chelsea, in the County of Suffolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, in consideration of the love and affection which I have to Marlboro', in the County of Cheshire and State of New Hampshire, my native town, and in the hope of contributing something to the moral and mental improvement of the present and future inhabitants of said town, do grant, sell, and convey to said town forever the Library Lot and Stone Building thereon, lately erected by me, for a Public Library in said town; said tract of land is bounded as follows: Beginning on the Depot Road at the northwest corner of land of Warren H. Wilkinson, thence northerly on same road to other land of said Wilkinson near the intersection of the roads; thence easterly on a curve on said Wilkinson's land to the highway leading to the Brick Church; thence southeasterly on said highway to a stake in the ground; thence southwesterly on said Wilkinson's land to a stake in the ground; and thence southerly on said Wilkinson's land to the place of beginning. Together with all the books, furniture, and other personal property in said building, and all the privileges and appurtenances belonging to said premises. To have and to hold the same as and for a Public Library free to all the inhabitants of said town forever.

"'This conveyance is made for the uses and purposes, and upon the trusts hereinafter expressed, to wit: That the premises shall forever hereafter be used and occupied as a Free Library for the inhabitants of said town, and for no other use or purpose whatever; that the town will permit the general management and control of the grounds, building, library, papers, funds and property to be in the hands of a Board of Trustees, consisting of the Selectmen of the town for the time being, the Clergymen settled or statedly officiating in said town, and three other persons without regard to residence, chosen or appointed as the town may decide, from time to time, and for such length of time as the town shall determine, not less than three years; which Board of Trustees are to choose a secretary, and, from time to time, make all needful rules, regulations and by-laws for the management of the library and its property. All books hereafter purchased or received by gift or otherwise for the library, are to be examined by the Trustees or some of them, and if objected to in writing as unfit for the library, by any one or more of the Trustees; the book is not to be admitted into the library, but the objection made is to be recorded by the Secretary. The town is to see that the property is protected from encroachment and trespass, and that the three Trustees are chosen or appointed, and that the library, and all funds given for the purposes of the library are used according to the intention of the donor, under the active management of the Board of Trustees.

"'Ellen H. Frost, wife of the said Rufus S. Frost, hereby releases all her claim to dower, and other claim to the premises.

"'Witness our hands and seals, this 26th day of August, A.D., 1867.

RUFUS S. FROST,
ELLEN H. FROST. [L. S.]

"'Signed, sealed and delivered, in presence of

WM. P. WHEELER,
VINCENT D. LENT.

"'THE STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE, }
CHESHIRE Co., August 26, 1867. }

"'Personally appeared Rufus S. Frost, and acknowledged the foregoing instrument to be his free act and deed.
Before me,

WM. P. WHEELER,
Justice of the Peace.'

"Designing that the taxes of no citizen should be increased because of this gift, I have also laid aside five thousand dollars, the principal to remain forever intact, the interest to be paid annually to the Trustees to be used to freshen and perpetuate the library. And I have already appointed a trustee to pay over the $5000 to the town at my decease."

The town having formally voted to accept the gift upon the conditions specified, —

Mr. FROST, addressing Rev. H. P. Osgood, of the Board of Trustees, spoke as follows:

"My Dear Sir — The town of Marlboro', by the vote just passed accepting the "Free Library" upon the conditions specified in the deed, has constituted you one of its trustees; and I, therefore, transfer to you the keys, and joyfully bid God speed to the work of education and elevation, which I trust the library will perform. But I cannot let them pass from my hands without expressing my gratitude to our Heavenly Father, that no loss of life or limb has been experienced in the construction of the building. I wish also to express my thanks to the builder, Jona. Jones, Esq., and his assistants, for the substantial manner in which they have accomplished their work; to Samuel Crossfield, Esq., and his assistants for the workmanlike finish which they have given to the interior; to Warren H. Wilkinson, Esq., for assisting in arranging the boundaries of the land; and to the citizens who have kindly assisted in grading the library lot; and sir, hoping that you and your associates may enjoy dispensing the privileges of the library as much I have enjoyed in preparing them, I herewith deliver you the keys."

Mr. OSGOOD, receiving the keys in behalf of the town, responded to the address of Mr. Frost, expressing the profound gratitude of the people of Marlboro' to him for the inestimable benefit which, in the exercise of a generosity so discriminating and provident, he had conferred upon them. He spoke of the permanent character of the gift, the ever augmenting beneficent influences which would attend it; of the great material, educational, social, moral and religious advantages which would result from it, and of the high appreciation in which it will always be held. He acknowledged, in complimentary terms, sound judgment and good taste exercised in selecting a library comprising such diversified literary treasures, and so well adapted to the varied needs of a community, and the wisdom of Mr. Frost in thus making himself his own executor while bestowing an invaluable blessing upon the place of his nativity. The lesson taught by this unselfish action was also earnestly commended to the attention of all having the means to be useful and do good in their lifetime.

At the close of Mr. Osgood's address, an appropriate and fervent dedicatory prayer was offered by Rev. Giles Lyman, after which the following resolutions were reported by Dr. S. A. Richardson:

"Resolved, That the Hon. Rufus S. Frost, in the gift of a Library, so ample in the number of volumes, and so rich in varied literature, with a provision for so large additions from year to year, and in the erection of so goodly a structure for its accommodation, shows himself a most worthy son of Marlboro', and merits the warm and lasting gratitude of every citizen of the Town.

"Resolved, That the Town hereby tender to Mr. Frost, and place upon record their sincere and hearty thanks for his so liberal and desirable gift.

"Resolved, That we will perpetuate the remembrance of this day and its pleasant and profitable associations by giving to this building and Library the name of Frost, and it shall be designated as 'FROST FREE LIBRARY.'"

In presenting to you these resolutions I would call the attention of my fellow-citizens to the unlimited influence which this Library must have on this, and on future generations.

It is not for us alone to attempt to return thanks for that which is made as permanent and lasting as the granite rocks of our native hills, perfected in the superstructure by the ingenuity of man, and stored with the accumulating wealth of the past ages, and those gems of thought which outlive the present and are handed to the future generations of men.

It is not for us, who have plenty of this world's goods, wherewith to purchase such books as we wish to read, or to send our sons and daughters to such schools as we may select, to feel at once the magnitude of this good thing.

Neither can we fully understand and realize the pleasures and the happiness it will impart to us until we have passed many a winter's evening by our firesides listening to the cheerful voice of youth as it reads from some instructive volume from those ample shelves; then we shall begin to feel the necessity of it, and make many private resolutions of thanks from our hearts, and tell the little ones around us of the name of FROST.

But not for us alone is this intellectual feast prepared. Long after our mature forms, and these rosy cheeks, and starlike eyes have passed away, and a new generation has taken our places on the hillside and in valley, there will come those who will enjoy these treasures, and be equally sincere and more earnest in continuing and perpetuating the kind remembrance we have this day begun.

High up on the Monadnock's rugged side, as far as the hardihood of man, or the fortitude of woman has formed a habitation, and forced from its sterile soil a meagre support for themselves and family, the Frost Library will furnish the intellectual food that makes men; and those anxious mothers, as they bid farewell and "God speed" to their sons and daughters, when they go forth for the first time into the world on the journey of life, will remember, that by his liberality, they go not ignorant, but, although self-taught, prepared to become mighty among their fellow-men.

The stranger who, worn with the hard tasks of a business life, seeks quiet in looking upon our green fields by the side of our many running brooks, will, while absent from his own private collection of books, find in this an ample substitute, and ask, in admiration, what manner of man he was, that he should do this thing for us? But another class will feel it more, and remember it longer.

The unfortunate victim of accident, whose health and mind may be sound, but is made an unwilling prisoner in our borders by a broken bone, will find that which will make the long dreary hours pass unheeded. Pain will lose its sharpest point in the all-absorbing interest of the mind, and as he again resumes his active life, a wiser and a better man, will he not join us in this resolution of thanks?

It is to every one an open door — to the rich and the poor alike — and an influence that will be felt as long as the music of turning wheels is heard on our streams, and echoed back in the joyful shouts of the young on the distant hills.

But the richest boon of all is to those that have an unchanging thirst for knowledge without other means for its gratification.

The poor widow's son has had the flame kindled in his breast, and many weary days has he spent to earn and save money to purchase one single book. He hears at last of this place. It has a two-fold charm for him. Here he can find work and free knowledge. His daily task in the mill is done, and he hastens to his chamber; all care vanishes from that poverty-pinched face; the sunshine of hope is on his brow; the light of heaven is in his eye; and could you look upon him, you would see in the working of his features the miniature of the noble upright man who is to come forth from that dismal chamber to take a first position in life. He is perfectly happy now while his candle lasts, and when its flickering reminds him that he must retire, will not he, as he repeats his evening prayer, return thanks for the privilege that has made the future so bright to him, and ask a blessing for the generous giver?

And will we not, all of us, as our declining years come upon us, and we retire from active life to take refuge in the intellectual feast this day set before us by Marlboro's noble son, constantly return the sincere thanks of full hearts for this great and good gift? And when the blood runs feebly in our veins, and our footsteps tremble, and our light grows dim, reminding us that the close of life draws near, we will send up to the Giver of all good and perfect gifts, our final petition that his sons and daughters may be like him.

After appropriate remarks by Hon. Wm. P. Wheeler, of Keene, and Rev. Mr. Laws, these resolutions were unanimously adopted.

This action was followed by the recitation, in a beautiful and impressive manner, of a neat little poem by Miss Ida Woodward, addressed to Mr. Frost, in behalf of the young folks, and the exercises at the library closed by a benediction.

A procession was then formed, headed by the Keene Brass Band, and marched to the residence of Mr. Samuel Allison, on whose grounds was spread a most bountiful and tastefully arranged collation provided by the ladies of Marlboro'. The collation was followed by pertinent sentiments and animated speeches, interspersed with appropriate music.

In the evening, many citizens having assembled at the residence of Mr. Frost, fireworks were displayed and a collation served. Impromptu bonfires sprung up on various eminences throughout the town, expressive of the gratified and jubilant feelings of the people, and so, merrily and happily, closed a day which will ever form a bright spot in the annals of Marlboro'.

H. P. OSGOOD,
Secretary of Board of Trustees.

MARLBORO', N. H., Nov. 2, 1867.

N. B. As, in his reply to the Committee, Mr. Frost specifies Five Thousand Dollars as the extent of the proposed gift, justice to his liberality demands the statement that the donation in the aggregate reaches the sum of Fifteen Thousand Dollars.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

OF THE

FROST FREE LIBRARY,

Marlborough, N. H.

ART. I.—The Library shall be open every week on Saturday from 2 to 5 o'clock, P. M., and from 7 to 9 P. M., with the exception of legal holidays, when it shall be open the same hours on the following Monday.

ART. II.—All inhabitants of Marlborough above the age of twelve years shall have access to the Library, with the privilege of drawing books for home use, and consulting books of reference at the Library.

ART. III.—No person shall be allowed to draw from the Library more than one volume in one day, it being understood that one who is entitled to a book may draw for another so entitled; and no person shall have out more than one volume at a time; and no book shall be retained more than four weeks. Nor shall the person returning a book be at liberty to retake the same until the next week. The fine for retention of any volume over the time specified shall be seven cents for every week it is so retained.

ART. IV.—When any book, on account of its great popularity, is likely to be frequently called for, the time of its retention from the Library may be limited to a shorter period, the time of its retention being made conspicuous on its cover; and if such book is retained beyond the specified time the person so retaining it shall pay the same fine as provided in Article Third.

ART. V.—Any book retained two weeks beyond the time specified by the regulations, shall be sent for by the Librarian, and the expense incurred in obtaining it shall be paid by the person who has so retained it.

ART. VI.—All injuries to books, beyond a reasonable wear, and all losses, shall be made good, to the satisfaction of the Trustees of the Library, by the person liable. The writing of notes, comments, or other matter in a book shall be deemed an injury, and the person to whom it stands charged shall replace it by a new volume, or set; and any book not returned within two weeks after demand has been made for it by the Librarian shall be regarded as lost.

ART. VII.—No person having a book from the Library shall lend it to any person not a member of the same household.

ART. VIII.—No person owing a fine or forfeiture shall receive books from the Library until the same is paid.

ART. IX.—All persons visiting the Library are required to demean themselves properly, and any person refusing to comply with this rule will be denied admission to the Library.

ART. X.—Books of reference, and those deemed by the Trustees unsuitable for general circulation, shall not be drawn from the Library, except by an order signed by at least two of the Trustees.
